

INTERESTING FROM CALIFORNIA—
More Gold Discovered.—Advises received at New York contain the following additional particulars of late intelligence from the gold regions:

The Trovado arrived at Mazatlan on the 14th, from San Francisco, with advice to the 3d of March. The steamer Oregon, with her three hundred passengers, arrived at Mazatlan on that date—she merely touched there, and proceeded on her voyage to San Francisco on the same day.

By private letters received in Mexico, it was learned, that during the week ending the 10th March, a schooner arrived at Mazatlan, from San Francisco, with fifteen thousand ($240,000) of gold on board, from the Placers. This gold had been purchased at San Francisco, at from $11 to $15 per ounce.

On the 18th of March, a brig and a schooner left Mazatlan for San Francisco—they each carried several passengers. The news which arrived every day was so good and so positive, that every one in Mazatlan was wild to go to the gold regions. News also had been received, that another Placer had been discovered in Lower California, which bid fair to rival in richness those on the Sacramento river.

It is not a little remarkable as indicating the progress of our country in population, that the Senate at present consists of the same number as the House of Representatives in the first Congress.

The Odd Fellows' Hall now in process of erection in New York, it is said will cost $120,000. It is to be finished and furnished in the most excellent taste, and some of the rooms exceed in splendor any thing in this country.

LIFE.

An infant on its mother's breast—
A bouncing boy at play—
A youth by maiden fair caressed—
An old man silvery grey—
Is all of life we know!
A joy—a fear—a smile—a tear—
And all is o'er below!

I. O. O. F.

OBITUARY.

Of Pulmonary Affection, on the 1st of May, 1849, at his residence, in Cooper's Bottom, Howard County, Mo., BENJAMIN COOPER, Esq., son of the late Col. Benjamin A. Cooper, first settler of the Boone's Lick country, Mo., and one amongst the first settlers of Kentucky. The history of Col. Cooper is familiar to many surviving individuals; few men, if any, contributed more to the subjugation of the hostile Indians of Ky. than he did; he bore part in many a sanguinary scene in the fertile hills and dales of Ky., in the first settlement of that country. I have heard him say he had been in 13 different general engagements, one of which was the bloody tragedy of the Blue Lick defeat. After the close of the Indian war in that country, Col. Cooper retired to the peaceful enjoyment of a private life for many years.

Squire Cooper was born in Madison County, Ky., on the 1st of March, 1790, his father emigrated from there to the lower part of the State near Louisa Island, in the year 1807 and in the year 1808, he moved up here; the then far famed Boone's Lick country, and settled on the eastern banks of the Missouri river, with his family, in the wilderness, one mile and a half below Arrow Rock—a noted point amongst the Aborigines of the west, from its being called after a conspicuous Chief. This section of country being considered Indian territory, he remained here but a short time before he moved back near St. Charles, by order of Government. In the summer of 1809 the United States Government succeeded in effecting a treaty with the Missouri, Miami, Osage, Sac, Fox, and other tribes of Indians for the Boone's Lick country; and in the spring of 1810 Col. Cooper moved back with his family, and settled on his former selected place. The company soon became dissatisfied with the Indians and being aggrieved on by bad white men, began to commit daring depredations, followed by deeds of blood, upon the infant settlement of the Boone's Lick country; at the commencement of which the subject of this notice was about twenty years of age.

The part he took in the sanguinary struggle with the red man of the forest, for the fertile soil of this fair country, near 40 years ago, can yet be attested to by living witnesses. He was always ready at the sound of an alarm, to bear his part in the event. His daring cavalry, though equalled by many, was surpassed by none. He was calm and collected on all emergencies. No peril deterred him where duty called him.

The fruits of the conquest of this country by those daring spirits, (known as the Boone's Lick Pioneers, of which body he was a member), will be enjoyed by thousands yet unborn. After the close of the war of 1812, Squire Cooper settled on a farm a few hundred yards west of Cooper's Fort, where he remained a useful and respectable citizen until the close of his life. He was a man of few words—rather slow of decision, and unobtrusive in his purposes. He acquitted himself with honor in all the public duties enjoined upon him; he lived a pious and exemplary life, though he never made a public profession of religion until some 8 or 10 years ago, and he never attached himself to any branch of the Church, for causes best known to himself. He had been predisposed to Pulmonary affection a good many years, which finally carried him away; he was taken down about the first of June 1846 and was confined for several months, from which attack he never recovered, though he got able to walk about the house and ride out a little. He was subject to bad spells every few months as long as he lived; each one seemed to be a little worse than the one before; his suffering was long and severe in the extreme, but lingering as it was, it only developed his patience and exhibited the power of his mind to sustain in sore affliction and in a near approach to the invisible world. He had been confined to his bed for the last five months previous to his death—quite dead at times. About the 10th of April the disease took a decided change for the worse; he seemed to be conscious that his dissolution was close at hand; he said he would like to have lived to see his children nearer united in a near approach to the will of the Lord, but as it was not to be, he died with all the patience and resignation of humanity. In his last illness when his feeble body was tortured almost to distraction, he would often exclaim "Oh what a rest awaits this weary soul!" Such words uttered in view of eternity could be from no other than a feeling secure. The last few days of his life his suffering was so severe he talked but little, though he retained his proper mind to the last. After concealing his wife and children for the last time, he requested them not to grieve after him—that he had suffered so long they ought to rejoice to see him at rest. The last night of his stay on earth, as I sat by his side he would now and then ask me how his pulse was, and indeed told him he was about midnight as I held his hand in mine, I told him from all human appearance, he was on the very verge of eternity—at which he opened his eyes and fixed them on mine and said, "well, I have finished my course and have nothing to boast of but confidence in my Maker." I shall never forget those looks and expressions, he then became composed—occasionally asked for water which he would raise to his lips with his own hands, while his spirit was pluming its wings for immortality. The cold drops of sweet sweat on his face, rung out by the toll of death, until half past two o'clock, A. M., May the 1st 1849, when he sunk calmly into Eternity as the Sun sinks below the western hills, and as the last rays of light slowly withdraws from the face of nature, the calm serenity of his countenance faded away as his form grew cold in death. He has doubtless gone to that country where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest, as he gave evidence in the decisive hour; for if there is an honest period in life it is when soul and body are dis-uniting.

He has left a wife and 8 children, and a large circle of relations and friends to mourn their irreparable loss, yet they should not mourn as for those who have no hope.

Consumption is Cured

By Dr. Rogers' compound Syrup of Liverwort and Tar! A safe and certain cure for Consumption of the Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Pain in the Lungs, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, and all Pulmonary Affections.

TO those who have CONSUMPTION OR DISEASED LUNGS, we call your earnest and immediate attention to the great merit of the above preparation, and entreat you not to put it down with other advertised medicines, without inquiring whether there is not entire and satisfactory proof of its value, and that too from men of the highest standing, who are living witnesses, and can be seen by any one who will take the trouble to call upon them.

Not only the Physician, but even the Professors among the medical faculty, have had the bias of prejudice broken down by the astonishing cures effected by this great remedy, and have come out at last and given their certificates that there is no mistake about it—that it really makes cures when every thing else has failed, and that it is the Great Remedy for Diseased Lungs.

Call on the Agent and see the statement of the following persons of Cincinnati who were cured by Dr. Rogers' Liverwort and Tar, after being given up to die with the last stages of Consumption, not only by their friends, but by physicians of the highest standing.

Mr. D. Ludlow, Fifth street, between Race and Elm.
Mr. H. Plummer, hatter, between Eighth and Ninth, on Main street.
Mr. G. Whitehead, Catharine street, half a square below Lin.

Mrs. Ann Childs, Sixth street, two doors west of Smith, &c. &c.
Be not deceived by worthless medicines, which are palmed on you, when such men as Dr. Wm. Richards and Judge Wm. Burke, Dr. H. Cox, late Professor of Cincinnati Medical College, have come out and certified that Dr. Rogers' Liverwort and Tar is the great consumption remedy.

Dr. Cox states that Miss Belt was pronounced by Prof. Warden and the late Prof. Worcester to be in the last stages of Consumption, and give her up to die; yet Dr. Rogers' Liverwort and Tar entirely cured her.

Statement of Judge H. Morse, of the Courts of Ohio and Cincinnati.
I am well acquainted with Dr. Hiram Cox and his practice, and having been my family physician for many years, and can cheerfully say, that I have as much or more confidence in him and his skill as a practicing physician as any man living.

HENRY MORSE.
Cincinnati, Nov. 7th, 1847.
Dr. H. Cox is also the family physician of the Hon. Judge Jas. Saffin, of Cincinnati, late City Marshal.

Continued to all—Owing to the increased demand for this medicine, an unprincipled man, (John T. Toland), in Cincinnati, imitated its external appearance only the yellow and blue wrapper, and dispatched an interested runner, (P. Clinton), in this notorious business to St. Louis to make sales. This counterfeit omits the name of A. L. Scoville, in fine print on the bottom of the outside wrapper, where it reads, "Entered according to Act of Congress," &c. On the genuine, the name of A. L. Scoville is found following the words "Entered according to act of Congress," &c.

Dr. O. Henderson, Agent, Glasgow; Dr. SNELSON, Fayette.
Orders may be addressed to H. BLAKESLY & Co. St. Louis.

Piles! Piles! Piles!!!

Dr. Upham's Vegetable Electuary, or Internal REMEDY FOR THE PILES, Triumphant! 50,000 Cases Cured in the past year.

This Medicine is warranted to cure all cases of piles, either bleeding or blind, internal or external, and all inflammatory diseases found in conjunction with the Piles—such as Chronic Dysentery, Weakness and Inflammation of the Spine, falling of the bowels, womb, &c., that females particularly are subject to, under peculiar circumstances, for which many certificates could be given of speedy and effectual cures—but delicacy forbids their publication.

Severe and Habitual Constipation, Flow of blood to the head, Dyspepsia, Ulcerations, Fistulas, Inflammation of the Stomach, find a speedy cure in Dr. Upham's Electuary. It is an internal remedy, and cures by its action on the bowels and blood, the relaxed state, which is the cause of the above named diseases.

Universal Commendation.
From every city, town and village, where Dr. Upham's Vegetable Electuary has been introduced, the most gratifying intelligence of its effectualness has been received by the Proprietor. In hundreds of instances it has triumphed over cases which were deemed incurable.

Letter of Capt. W. W. McLean, late of the U. S. Service, and member of the N. J. Legislature.
RANNEY, June 16, 1847.

"I have been afflicted for years with the Piles, and have tried without any thing like permanent benefit, almost everything assuming the name of a remedy. I had, as a matter of course, lost all confidence in medicine. Under this feeling I was induced—not without reluctance, I confess—to use 'Upham's Electuary,' and having used it for about three weeks, according to the directions laid down, I find me surprised, and well as satisfaction, that every symptom of the disease has left me. I think it due to Dr. Upham and myself to make this statement."

G. W. McLEAN.
Addressed to the agents in Columbia Ga.
Notice—The genuine Electuary has the written signature thus, (G. W. Upham, M. D.) The head is also done with a pen.
